

INTRODUCTION

Thank you for your interest in surgically assisted weight loss options. The decision to undergo this type of surgery is a major decision, which will result in changes in lifestyle, appearance, health status and eating habits. George Ferzli MD, PC and Lutheran Medical Center are recognized as Bariatric Surgery Centers of Excellence.

Our multi-disciplinary approach to treatment includes: detailed nutritional and psychological counseling, education and support, a thorough medical evaluation, support groups meetings and other helpful services, as well as friendly, caring and accessible staff.

Our goal is to provide you with the highest quality of care. Our Bariatric team is dedicated to fully educate prospective and current patients on all aspects of surgically assisted weight loss options. This is a comprehensive information package that reviews the entire journey to surgically assisted weight loss.